Foreword

This Yizkor Book of Remembrance is for use during Yizkor Services at the Jacksonville Jewish Center on Yom Kippur, Shemini Atzeret, the 8th Day of Pesah and the 2nd Day of Shavu'ot. We hope the use of this book will help worshippers find consolation and discover inspiration in remembering their dead.

The printing of specific names of deceased loved ones in this Book of Remembrance has been made possible by the generosity of many donors. We are grateful to them for their loving act and thank them for their generosity.

May all who mourn make their remembrance of the good guidance, kind words, and upright deeds of the departed into an ongoing spur for nobler living.

“Remember the days of old” (Deuteronomy 32:7).

“The memory of the righteous is for a blessing” (Proverbs 10:7).

Their Memories Illumine Our World

There are stars whose light reaches the earth only after they themselves have disintegrated. And there are individuals whose memory lights the world after they have passed from it. These lights shine in the darkest night and illumine for us the path.

Yizkor Service

We rise as the ark is opened:

ה' מַה-אָדָם וַתִּדְעֵהוּ בֶן-אָנוּשׁ וַתַּחֲשִׁבֵהוּ. אָדָם לַהֲבֵל דָּמָה, יָמָיו כְּצֵל
עוֹבֵר. בִּבְקָר יִצִּיץ וְחֶלֶף לָעָרֶב יִמּוּלֵל וַיָּבֵשׁ: תָּשֵׁב אָנוּשׁ עַד דָּכָא, וַתֹּאמֶר שׁוּבוּ בְנֵי אָדָם. שׁוּבָה ה' עַד-מָתִי וְהַנְּחִם עַל-עֲבֻדִיךָ:

Lord, what are we human beings, that You have regard for us, mere mortals, that You take account of us?

We are like a breath, our days are like a fleeting shadow.
Our days are as grass; we flourish as a flower in the field.
But in the evening the wind passes over it and it is gone,
and no one can recognize where it grew.

Teach us to number our days,
so that we will be able to acquire a heart of wisdom.

Those who know Your name trust You,
for You do not abandon those who turn to You.
Guard the person of integrity, and recognize the upright, for there is a future for a person of peace.

Psalms 144:3-4, 90:6, 90:3, 90:13

אָנוּשׁ כְּחֶצִיר יָמָיו כְּצִיץ הַשָּׂדֶה כֵּן יִצִּיץ: כִּי רוּחַ עֲבָרָה-בּוֹ וַאֲיֵנָּה
וְלֹא-יִפְרֹנּוּ עוֹד מְקוֹמוֹ: וְחֶסֶד ה' | מֵעוֹלָם וְעַד-עוֹלָם עַל-יִרְאָיו וְצִדְקָתוֹ
לְבָנֵי בָנִים:

The days of mortals are like grass;
we flourish as the flowers of the field.
A wind passes over them and they are no more;
and no one can recognize where they grew.
But the Lord's compassion is everlasting.
God's kindness to children's children,
to all the reverent ones,
endures, age after age, unchanging.

Psalm 103:15-17

Responsive Reading

O God, in the synagogue at Yizkor time we sense the presence and continuity of the generations.

Centuries of Jews seem to hover here.

We know, too, that even as we have come to this Yizkor service to remember deceased loved ones, so, one day, we hope other persons come to Yizkor services to recall us.

At this moment we remember our departed loved ones.

Yizkor is for remembering what our departed meant to us and what they should mean to us.

Some of us remember a mother, a father, or both, who provided life's necessities in our dependent years and who wanted us to mature into responsible and ethical human beings. We are grateful for the parental sacrifices made and guidance given, for the love that comforted and sustained us.

Some of us recall a wife or husband who shared our hopes and struggles, our successes and failures, our joys and griefs. We are thankful for each day our life was affectionately shared with theirs.

There are parents among us who call to mind a dear child whom they cared for and cherished. May we perceive that our love brightened our offspring's life as much as our child's love illuminated our life.

There are individuals here who recollect a sister or brother whose affection and comradeship especially enhanced the growing years of childhood and youth. May these memories of shared concern and companionship be consciously treasured.

We all think of relatives and friends whose deaths saddened us, frequently leaving gaping holes in our lives.

We also recall many others who have died: known and unknown members of our extended family in this and earlier centuries; the many generations of Jews who have bequeathed us a glorious Jewish culture and tradition; righteous men, women, and children of diverse civilizations and religions, lands and skin-colors, who have added something positive to the human ascent; those who made the supreme sacrifice for the cause of freedom on land, air or sea while proudly wearing the uniform of our country; the Jewish martyrs through the ages who chose to die as Jews rather than live a lie as Gentiles; the Six Million who, in the “civilized” world of the twentieth century, perished because they were Jews; the Jewish pioneers, military personnel, schoolchildren, and others who, in Israel, were slain by persons who would not have Jews live as a free people in their ancestral homeland. O Lord, help us to find the will and strength to live affirmatively despite the loss of loved ones.

May we prove worthy of what the departed have given us by more effectively perpetuating the noble ideals, practices, and causes they cherished. For we know that the deceased continue to prove a blessing when their teachings and example prod us to righteous deeds.

Those we have affectionately remembered are also linked with us when we further the historic chain of Judaism and the Jewish people, in whose ongoing existence we too find a consoling measure of immortality.

At this Yizkor service, when the realization of life's transience is so keen, may we resolve to make better use of each precious moment that is ours. May we henceforth live differently because we have remembered. Amen.

שְׁוִיתִי ה' לְנִגְדִי תָמִיד, כִּי מִיְמִינִי בַל אָמוּט. לְכֵן שָׂמַח לְבִי וַיִּגַּל כְּבוֹדִי, אֵף בְּשָׂרִי יִשְׁכּוֹן לְבֶטֶח.

I have set the Lord always before me; because God is at my right hand, I shall not be moved. Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoices; my flesh also dwells secure.

In Memory of those that gave their lives in defense of our Country:

Exalted, compassionate God, grant infinite rest in Your sheltering presence, among the holy and pure, to all those who bravely laid down their lives for our country. Merciful One, we ask that You shelter them in Your eternal embrace. May their souls be bound up in the bond of life. May they rest in peace. We pray that their ultimate sacrifice for the cause of liberty and freedom lead the world to a time of peace, when nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore. Then the glory of the Holy One shall be revealed, and all humanity shall see it together. And let us say: Amen.

In Memory of those who gave their lives for Israel:

Exalted, compassionate God, grant infinite rest in Your sheltering presence, among the holy and pure, to those who fought and fell in the line of duty as they defended the life of the Jewish People in its ancestral homeland and in the lands of the Diaspora. We pray also for the innocent souls of men, women and children, who perished as victims of terror attacks. Merciful One, we ask that You shelter them in Your eternal embrace. May their souls be bound up in the bond of life. May they rest in peace. And let us say: Amen.

Livkot Lecha (To Cry For You)

Hebrew Lyrics & Music by Aviv Geffen

English Translation by Jesse Rubenfeld

I'm on my way to cry for you;
be strong up in the starlight.

My emptiness
is like a door left open after midnight.

Forever my friend
I'll see you in the end
and we'll always be the best of brothers.

The friends I have are fine,
but in the light you shine
I only see the shadow of the others.

In tearful times we walk the shore and salt the sea with crying.

And tears will fall because there's nothing else to stop my lonely sighing.

And like the tide
we crash, collide
with the rocks
with real life.

Forever my friend...

In Memory of all the dead:

Exalted, compassionate God, grant infinite rest in Your sheltering presence, among the holy and pure, to the souls of our beloved who have gone to their eternal home. Merciful One, we ask that our loved ones find perfect peace in Your tender embrace, their memory enduring as inspiration for commitment to their ideals and integrity in our lives. May their souls thus be bound up in the bond of life. May they rest in peace. And let us say: Amen.

A Meditation

Our Creator, the Eternal One, delights in life. Because of God's love for us, and because we are so few, each of us is a vital part of God's kingdom. Though we are only flesh and blood, we are irreplaceable. When one of the House of Israel dies, God's own grandeur is diminished. May the memory of all those we remember this day, in love, be an undying source of blessing to us, to our children, to all Israel, and to all humanity.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies;

Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

*Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life;
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.*

Mourner's Kaddish, cont'd

May God's name be exalted and hallowed throughout the world that God created. May God's sovereignty soon be accepted, during our life and the life of all Israel. And let us say: Amen

May God's great name be praised throughout all time.

Glorified and celebrated, lauded and worshiped, exalted and honored, extolled and acclaimed, may the Holy One be praised beyond all song and psalm, beyond all tributes that mortals can utter. And let us say: Amen.

Let there be abundant peace from heaven, with life's goodness for us and for all Israel. And let us say: Amen.

May the One who brings peace to the universe, bring peace to us and to all Israel. And let us say: Amen.

A Prayer for Those Blessed with Loved Ones Who are Living:

Almighty God, while many of us call to mind loved ones who have gone to their eternal rest, at this solemn moment we raise our eyes to You, Giver of Life, and with a grateful heart thank You for Your mercy in having preserved the lives of other beloved family members and friends.

May it be Your will, Our God and God of our ancestors, to bestow them with health and strength, so that they may be with us for many years to come. Bless them even as they have blessed us; grace their lives with richness even as they have so graced our lives.

In return for their love and affection, may we bring them joy and lighten their cares. Grant us the privilege to help them in every way that lies within our power. May we learn to understand and to recognize the duty we owe them so that we never have cause to reproach ourselves when it is too late.

Shield our homes from sorrow. May peace, harmony and Your spirit ever reign within their walls. Keep us true to You and to all with whom we come in contact that we may do Your will with a perfect heart. Amen.

Life After Death

These things I know:

How the living go on living and how the dead go on living with them so that in a forest
even a dead tree casts a shadow and the leaves fall one by one and the branches break in the wind and the bark peels off slowly and the trunk cracks
and the rain seeps in through the cracks

and the trunk falls to the ground and the moss covers it
and in the spring the rabbits find it
and build their nests
inside the dead tree
so that nothing is wasted in nature or in love.

Some Questions and Answers about Burial Practices

Does the Center have its own cemetery?

The Jacksonville Jewish Center owns and operates two cemeteries located at Evergreen Cemetery on the north side of Jacksonville. The original cemetery, usually referred to simply as the “Old Cemetery,” has the graves of the founding families of the Congregation. The “New Cemetery” is known officially as the Jacksonville Jewish Center New Memorial Park. In addition to the above, the Congregation serves as the religious custodian of the Beth Shalom Cemetery, also located at Evergreen Cemetery.

The synagogue provides maintenance for both the Old Center Cemetery and the Jacksonville Jewish Center Memorial Park, while Evergreen maintains the grounds of the Beth Shalom Cemetery. The cemeteries are open 8:00 am to 5:00 pm every day except Shabbat and Jewish holidays. An annual memorial service is conducted by the synagogue’s clergy on the Sunday between Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur. Contact the office at 904-292-1000 for further details.

In keeping with Jewish tradition, there are no conspicuous monuments such as mausoleums at the Center cemeteries. Instead, headstones, footstones and slabs are permitted, as are metal plaques flush with the ground.

Who may be buried at the Center’s cemeteries?

Members of the Congregation may purchase plots only at the Jacksonville Jewish Center New Memorial Park. If one’s membership has lapsed, an individual may access the plot by payment of one year’s dues. An adult relative, who is not a member of the Center at the time of death, may be interred in either of the above properties upon payment of a year’s dues on his/her behalf. Those experiencing financial hardship are encouraged to contact the Center’s Executive Director – all communication will be treated sensitively and confidentially. Burial at both Old and New Center Cemeteries is open to those of the Jewish faith.

Affiliated and unaffiliated members of the Jewish community may purchase plots at the Beth Shalom Cemetery by contacting Evergreen Cemetery directly. In keeping with our Congregational commitment to Keruv (outreach) among intermarried families, and in accordance with the ruling of the Committee on Jewish Law and Standards of the Conservative movement, we offer a designated section at the Beth Shalom Cemetery for the interment of those who are not Jewish alongside their Jewish spouses.

At all three cemeteries affiliated with the synagogue, the preparations for burial must be in accord with the tenets and practice of Conservative Judaism.

How is the price of a plot determined?

The price of a plot at the Center's Memorial Park is determined by the Cemetery Committee with the approval of the Executive Board, and includes the cost of perpetual care. There are no additional charges by the synagogue at the time of the funeral, although charges from the funeral home are incurred for services such as preparing and closing the grave site and for the grave liner required by state law.

A fund for perpetual care at the above properties has been established with money derived from the sale of plots. This fund is invested in a very conservative manner. Although the Cemetery Committee anticipates that this fund will suffice to provide for future needs, it may be necessary to request voluntary contributions for capital improvements as circumstances require.

At the Beth Shalom Cemetery, all costs associated with the purchase, preparation and maintenance of burial plots are determined exclusively by Evergreen Cemetery.

Is it better to purchase the plot now or wait until it is needed?

The death of a loved one is a difficult time; purchasing a plot ahead of time, therefore, is one less decision to make when confronted with grief. Since plots are continually being sold, arranging for them ahead of time also allows family members maximal flexibility in deciding the number of plots they wish to acquire as well as their location. The cost of plots, moreover, is almost certain to increase in the future.

If a change in circumstances makes it impossible for one to use a plot in either the Old or New Cemetery, one may transfer the burial site to another member of the Congregation with the approval of the Cemetery Committee. In keeping with Jewish tradition, it is not permissible to make a profit on the transaction.

Payment for a plot at the New Cemetery can be made in installments, with an initial down-payment . When payment in full is received, the synagogue will issue a deed for the plot. The plot must be paid in full before it can be used.

Inquiries regarding purchase arrangements for plots at the Beth Shalom Cemetery should be directed to Evergreen Cemetery. Please note, however, that by agreement with Evergreen Cemetery the transfer of plot ownership at the Beth Shalom Cemetery is subject to the religious guidelines of the Jacksonville Jewish Center and must also be approved by the Senior Rabbi as the Congregation's mara d'atra (decisor of Jewish law).

Can I transfer my purchased plot to a different location at the cemetery?

A member may decide after the original purchase of a plot to switch to a different location within the New Cemetery. In the interim, should the cost of plots increase, the member is responsible to pay the difference between the original purchase amount for the plots and their current cost.

While the exchange of one plot for another at the Beth Shalom Cemetery should be arranged directly through Evergreen Cemetery, by agreement with the cemetery all such transfers are subject to the religious guidelines of the Jacksonville Jewish Center, and accordingly must also be approved by the Senior Rabbi as the Congregation's halakhic authority.

Can I sell a plot back to the Center?

Plots cannot be sold back to the synagogue. It is a mitzvah, however, to donate a plot so that an indigent person can receive a proper burial. Plot donations may be treated as charitable contributions. A letter will be provided for tax purposes.

How do we prepare for a funeral? Who may officiate?

At the time of death, families are requested to contact the synagogue and one of the approved funeral homes (see below). A member of the synagogue clergy will reach out to your family as soon as possible and arrange a time to meet to discuss the service. The funeral, whose time is coordinated by clergy, the funeral home and the family, should be scheduled after death as soon as possible in keeping with Jewish teaching, but may not be on Shabbat or a major Jewish holiday.

Officiation is limited to the clergy of the Jacksonville Jewish Center, or, with the consent of the former, the clergy of another synagogue. Please note this includes funerals for non-Jewish spouses at the Beth Shalom Cemetery. The clergy of another religious faith may not conduct services at any cemetery associated with the Congregation.

The Jewish community of Jacksonville is blessed to have a Hevra Kaddisha, a volunteer burial society, which assists in proper preparation of the body as directed by our tradition. The Hevra Kaddisha will wash and dress the body in a dignified fashion in accordance with Jewish teaching. The Hevra Kaddisha will also arrange for the hiring of a “shomer” (guardian) to sit with the body overnight.

While there are no Jewish funeral homes in Jacksonville, The Hendricks and Mandarin chapels of Hardage-Giddens as well as George H. Hewell & Son Funeral Home are familiar with Jewish burial customs and cooperate with the Hevra Kaddisha. Because nothing should impede or hasten the natural return of the body to the earth, Jewish law prohibits embalming and the use of metal caskets. Traditionally, men and women are dressed in simple shrouds. A man is buried in his tallit (as are an increasing number of women).

A member of the clergy will contact the family as quickly as possible, and will answer any questions concerning the religious aspect of the funeral. The synagogue is prepared to assist families with conducting home services during shiva, the seven-day mourning period that follows burial.

Can I pre-plan my own funeral?

Yes. This is an excellent way to insure that your wishes are carried out in accordance with Jewish practice. The approved funeral homes offer pre-planning and pre-paid funeral programs. The clergy are available to answer any religious questions that may arise in pre-arrangement. Planning ahead and purchasing plots in advance will eliminate some of the stress a family may encounter at the time of a loved one's death.

What should or should not be engraved on a tombstone?

Since ancient times it has been the custom to mark the grave with a stone or monument. After Rachel died, “Jacob erected a monument on Rachel's grave” (Genesis 35:20). The marker or monument serves to identify the grave so that relatives will find it when they visit and be able to honor the memory of the deceased.

Jewish tradition makes no stipulation as to the size or type of marker or monument. The Jewish teaching that all are equal in death often serves as a meaningful guide to the choice of an appropriate headstone.

As a reflection of the Jewish character of the cemeteries associated with the synagogue, religious or fraternal symbols of a non-Jewish character are not permitted on any marker or monument, including those of non-Jewish spouses buried in Beth Shalom Cemetery's section for intermarried couples.

Markers or monuments generally include the English and Hebrew names of the deceased, the dates of birth and death in English and Hebrew, and the relationship to other family members (e.g., "beloved father/mother, husband/wife, sister/brother, grandfather/grandmother, etc.") One often finds the Hebrew letters pay nun at the top of the marker, which stand for "Po Nitman (ah) – Here is Buried." In addition, the letters tav, nun, tzadi, bet, heh, which stand for the phrase "May his/her soul be bound up in the bond of life" are often engraved toward the bottom of the stone. In addition to the above, the clergy are prepared to assist families in finding appropriate Scriptural verses to add to a marker.

Please note that in keeping with the sacred dignity and uniquely Jewish nature of the cemeteries, organizational symbols and slogans, as well as sports team or school logos, may not be engraved on monuments.

When is it appropriate to have an unveiling?

An unveiling may be scheduled after thirty days and generally before the first-year anniversary of death (yahrzeit). Unveilings are not held on Shabbat, holidays or other festive occasions on the Jewish calendar.

Is a minyan required at an unveiling?

It is required to have a minyan for reciting Kaddish; the recitation of Kaddish at an unveiling, however, is not mandatory. The Center's clergy will be happy to arrange for and advise families about unveiling ceremonies.

Are there any other issues regarding burial in a Jewish cemetery I should know about?

Contrary to a popular misconception, while Jewish law prohibits the practice of tattooing, having one does not serve as a barrier to burial in a Jewish cemetery.

Given the emphasis that Judaism places on the preservation of life, organ donation is not only permissible, but laudable – indeed, some religious authorities go so far as to claim that Jewish law mandates it. Accordingly, when harvested for the sake of transplantation, organ donation does not constitute physical mutilation of the body, but is a mitzvah of the highest order.

While the taking of one's own life is forbidden by Jewish law, the majority of rabbis understood such behavior as the consequence of extreme emotional distress. Because of the presumption of mental duress, those who commit suicide are not held accountable for their decision, and are accorded the same compassionate and respectful treatment that other deceased individuals receive.

Past and Future

Death and dying: two words in ordinary language,

An abstract noun and a present participle.

“Death: a permanent cessation of all vital functions.”

“Dying: the cause or occasion of loss of life.”

How concise is the dictionary!

How exact its definitions!

But death for us is a mixture of moods,

Tears, salt of self-pity, brine of resentment,

Anguish over things that never will be again,

Regret over things that could have been.

Bittersweet nostalgia,

Remembrance of that gray day,

A tear in the cloth, a handful of earth.

And now this moment

When together we cling to courage,

We who have the right to mourn.

It is the dignity of the soul

To hold on to the past

It is the dignity of the spirit

To take hold of the future.

To love and to forgive

Others and ourselves.

To rise from grief,

To sew the torn garment

To live, to love, to laugh,

And to remember

Always to remember.

— Rabbi Harold Schulweis
